

Everyone carries something we cannot see.

In a warm little forest, a tiny echidna named Pip discovers something amazing — every animal carries an invisible backpack. Some feel light.
Some feel very, very heavy.

With one small kindness at a time, Pip learns
the gentlest secret of all:

Kindness makes backpacks lighter.

A gentle Australian story about empathy, feelings and friendship, for children aged 3–7. Includes discussion questions for parents and teachers.

James Forycki

The Invisible Backpack

A story about kindness, empathy
and the things we cannot see.

James Forycki